

Lockheed Martin – vertical (aerospace) knows the importance of privacy with in their own corporation and educating their employees about such security. Lockheed Martin uses a custom branded package to educate and remind it's employees about webcam privacy while also branding all of its laptop assets.

Conduent – vertical (tech) knows the importance of privacy since they work with the largest businesses and governments in the world. Conduent benefits from the privacy of a webcam cover but also by the branding and impressions the webcam cover provides.

The Hartford – vertical (insurance) is a leader in the insurance industry and have been using webcam covers for years to keep their brand front and center of their target market. Branding while also offering privacy security is a win win for the client/prospect and the company.

Google Cloud - Google Cloud's Secure, global, high-performance, cost-effective and constantly improving services are being promoted at events by using C-SLIDE flagship product. The webcam covers keep the brand front and center while also ensuring webcam privacy protection for the prospects and customers.